ASK ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: When we moved to this apartment nobody was the least bit friendly. Even the women in the laundry room were cool when I tried to strike up a conversation.

This spring a good-looking widow moved across the hall. I decided to give her a warmer welcome than my neighbors had given me. I baked her a welcome cake—which was my first mistake. My second mistake was inviting her to have dinner with us before her stove was connected. Now my husband thinks she is the most brilliant woman he has ever met. In fact he is enchanted with her.

The two of them talk current events while I sit there like a dummy. The neighbor knows everything that is happening in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. My husband is very impressed because she can pronounce Dien Bien Phu and Hanoi. I say any moron can memorize what she sees in her newspaper.

The two of them talk past me like I'm not even there. I need your help. Can you offer a solution? — MRS. LUMP

Dear Mrs.: You are holding the solution in your hands — this newspaper.

If you will spend 20 minutes a day reading the news and the political columns in this paper you'll be on an equal footing with your neighbor. Instead of sitting there like a dummy, get busy. When you add a few informed sentences to the conversation, watch their faces. It should be fun.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband died when my son Dennis was six years old. I've worked hard to educate him and I'm happy to say he is a fine student and will be graduating from college next year.

I like some of the girls Dennis takes out better than others but I try not to show any partiality. I do get quite upset, however, when he shows special interest in a girl from out of town. Perhaps this sounds foolish, Ann, but I want Dennis to marry a local girl so I will have the pleasure of going about socially with her people.

Dennis says this is ridiculous. Will you please tell me, Ann, if I am asking too much? I've made many sacrifices for this boy and this is the only thing I have ever asked in return. Your opinion is wanted — A MOTHER

Dear Mother: It is unfair of you to expect your son to marry a local girl so you can be friendly with his in-laws. The boy is under no obligation to supply you with a social life. So knock it off, Mom.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . Out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

County Agent Advises On Japanese Beetles And Ant Invasions

Paul Keen - County Extension Agent

Japanese beetles have been reported in Lohair, Hazard Golf Course, and Woodland Park Area of Hazard. The extent of Japanese beetle infestation was reported by an inspector with Plant Pest Control Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Japanese Beetle spends about 11 months of the year in the ground in form of a white grub. The grub is similar to our native white grub, but is usually smaller, about one inch long. It lies in soil in a curled position. The grubs feed on the roots and underground stems of plants, particularly grasses. Often this feeding is not noticed until plants fail to make proper growth, or are killed. When grubs are numerous serious injury to turf will result. Japanese beetle infestations are usually heaviest in first season the insects invade an area. The numbers of beetles usually decrease in succeeding seasons but once an area is infested it is a continual source of infestation.

The adult beetles are a little less than 1/2 inch long and are shiny, metallic green. They have coppery brown wings, and six small patches of white hairs along the sides and back of the body, under the edges of the elytra. The beetles are about 1/2 inch long and resemble the June bug. The adult beetles can be seen in July.

The adult Japanese beetles feed on leaves of plants usually chew out the tissue between veins, leaving a lace like skeleton. A badly attacked tree or shrub may lose most of its leaves in a short time. Insecticides recommended to control adult beetles are Sevin, Malathion, DDT, or Metaoachlor. Follow directions on container.

The control of grubs in lawns is very important. Insecticides should be applied before serious damage is observed. Aldrin, Dieldrin, or Chlordane are recommended. Follow directions carefully.

Informational material on Japanese beetles and control can be obtained at the County Extension Office located under Hazard Post Office. Our telephone number is 6-2044. Instructions should be carefully followed.

Tips for Stopping Ant Invasions:

All types of ants will be active from now until cold weather next fall. So, between now and then there's a good chance for some of them to find their way into your home.

Acts are social insects that live in colonies. Nests are usually located in the soil near the foundation of the house, under sidewalks, concrete slabs and even in the lawn or garden.

To stop ants from invading homes, a outside treatment is best. Treat baseboards, window sills, and other areas where ants are seen. Use a household-type spray containing 2 percent chlordane, 1/2 percent lindane or 1/2 percent dieldrin. A 5 percent chlordane dust may also be used. Apply the insecticide at 2-week intervals until the ants disappear.

To eliminate ant colonies in your lawn, sift one teaspoon of 5 percent chlordane over each nesting area. Then sprinkle the treated areas thoroughly with water.

Read and follow label directions. Do not use these insecticides around the food supply of pets.

"The Haunted Palace" Suspenseful

For the first time in an Edgar Allan Poe motion picture, American International's "The Haunted Palace" adds an entirely new element of suspense to the famed writer's chills, forboding atmos- phere and eerie settings.

The new element is that of the weird occult science of necromancy (black magic) and its practitioners — the dreaded warlocks or male witches of history's darkest pages.

The color and Panavision Poe thriller, opening Thursday at the Family Theatre, stars Vincent Price, Debra Paget and Don Chaney.

Perry County people should read their County Paper.

THE ANNUAL COMBS REUNION

As we look forth for the coming Of a day that is so dear For the Combs Family Reunion They come from far and near.

They toiled the rugged mountains, When their work had just begun, As they labored for their Master They worked from sun to sun.

As they go from coast to coast, And settle far and near They return each year to the land they love And the friends that are so dear.

Their forefathers came from other lands Wherever they might be They came to this land of ours That they might set us free.

They came to these mountains Among the rocks and hills They settled and toiled and worked On these Kentucky hills

Some are tall and handsome Others short and small, Some are ministers, doctors and lawyers, But they answer to the call.

They go out in the world and wander From place to place they roam Then their minds turn backward To their Old Kentucky Home.

This is a day of remembrance Of things that are past and gone May we stop and pause and ponder Of the things that are coming on.

There is something about the mountains What ever it might be It gives a call to one and all And they come back home to see.

May our thoughts be untold As we journey through this day May we not forget our Maker And not forget to pray.

ONCE UPON A "HOMING" TIME

By Ruth Stone

Once upon a summer cheery My ancestors thought to move, From their past that was so dreary To a new land they could love.

Covered wagons new and sneaky Over hill and dale and glen Sometimes fast and sometimes slowly, Over hill and dale again.

Filled with farming tools and 'bacey Knives and spoons and pans and pots, Quilts and clothes and shoes and dishes, Men and women, pets and tots.

They were hoping to discover Some place new exciting, gay; And they found it in Kentucky Where they settled down to stay.

There they squatted, tilled their soil, Built their sturdy old log homes, Built their churches in the wildwood Never further more to roam.

There they bravely raised their children Taught them everything they knew, Thus the years passed one another Until I came into view.

Family ties were strong and lovely And the happiness it brings, But like all new baby birdlings, I just had to try my wings.

Now I have a secret yearning, Burning deep within my breast,

To go back to my Kentucky To the folks I love the best.

Down that winding road to Perry To that little mountain town, Where the morning mist arises And the sun comes sittin' down.

Where the smell of ma's good cookin' Comin' out the kitchen door, Makes us gather all together As we did in days of yore.

When I hear the hounds abayin' As they tree that old Raccoon, And I see the hills all silvery From the lovey summer moon;

When I feel that fish ajerkin' On that childhood fishin' pole, Then I'll know I'm home for certain, There'll be peace within my soul.

As the Cardinals and the Blue Jays Flit about the Golden Rod, I know there in the mountains I'll find time to talk to God.

Perry County is the grandest Place in all this lovely land, Built with love and faith and labor By my ancestors, to stand.

So that's just where I'm aheadin' When it's "Homing" time this year, When they call my name, you listen, I can't wait to say, "Rat Cheer!"

Elvis Presley Stays On Top Despite Predictions

When Elvis Presley exploded onto the national scene some ten years ago, the "wise guys" predicted he'd stick around for six months, give or take a few weeks.

The detractors have long since been forgotten but Elvis' fans have grown in number and loyalty, maintaining him year in and year out as a top seller of motion picture tickets and records.

These two fields, films and recordings, have accounted for a gross of some $300,000,000, about evenly divided between his motion pictures and his RCA Victor sales. This does not include tremendous grosses from packed-house personal appearances or from merchandise sidelines.

Actually, it is impossible to make an accurate fix on Presley's over-all earnings because the total increases each minute. His motion pictures play constantly somewhere in the world, adding to the total, and his records and albums are in steady demand.

Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's "Girl Happy" is Elvis' 18th motion picture, which is quite a mark for a young man originally tabbed as a six-months "flash-in-the-pan." He is under contract for four additional pictures at various studios, which will carry him into 1966, and there is a waiting list of offers for him to consider. It starts Tuesday at the Grand Vue Drive In.

Presley's price-tag, plus his loyalty to moviegoers, has kept him from the television screens, except for some of his first movies which are now distribut-

Senator Cooper's Mail Destroyed In Fire

Senator John Sherman Cooper has notified this paper that on Sunday, July 18, 1965, during a heavy electrical storm in Washington, the corner area of the Senate Office Building caught fire, burning out the room where a great deal of his mail is handled.

The Senator said that several hundred letters from Kentucky citizens, including the views on major bills before the Congress, were known to be destroyed. Senator Cooper said that replies to a number of letters received in the last month had been mailed out, but others were awaiting the enclosure of material.

The Senator said that if replies are not received by the end of this month, he would very much appreciate hearing again from those who sent him their views in the last month.

Three Perry Men Are Reported Stationed In South Viet Nam

Relatives of three Perry County service men stationed in Viet Nam have responded to a request by the Hazard Herald for information about them.

The men are PFC Earl M. Deaton, Jr., Tilford; Airman 2/C Michael Ova Turner, Hap-py; SFC Paul Miller, Glomawr.

PFC Deaton is the son of Earl Deaton of Tilford, the Democratic candidate for Perry County Court Clerk.

PFC Deaton is a graduate of Leatherwood High School and a former student at Lees Junior College at Jackson.

Young Deaton entered the Army March 17, 1964 and arrived in Viet Nam May 20, 1965. He is a member of the 123rd Transportation Unit in Nam.

Airman Turner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ova Turner of Happy.

He entered the Air Force in September 1962, volunteered for duty in South Viet Nam and arrived at Da Nang air base January 5, 1965.

A 1962 graduate of Dilce Combs High School, Airman Turner is assigned to a security unit at Da Nang.

Sergeant First Class Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Letcher Miller of Hazard.

A career soldier, a veteran of 23 years active duty including service in the Korean War, SFC Miller is a military advisor to the South Vietnamese Army.

He is stationed at Pha Cat, about 15 miles inland from the South China Sea in the central part of South Viet Nam.

(Relatives and friends of other Perry County service men now on duty in South Viet Nam or aboard ships in Southeast Asian waters are encouraged to send to the Herald their names, rank, place of duty and something about their personal history).

Eight File; No Primary Needed Yet

Eight candidates for City of-fices have now filed, but so far there aren't enough contenders for any one position to require a primary election.

Most recently announced candidates for City Commissioner is L. T. "Tommy" Whisman, who filed yesterday.

His opponent for the four Commissioner seats are Dr. E. S. Carter, who filed last Friday and Jack Burnett, an incumbent.

Incumbent Mayor Willie Dawahare and former Mayor M. K. Eblen are running for that office, while Don Fouts hopes to retain the Police Judge bench against challenger Ralph Peters, a former Police Judge.

Hoover Haynes is so far unopposed in the race for City Prosecuting Attorney.

Deadline for filing is August 3. If a primary is necessary, it will be September 18. The election is November 9.

County Gets Anti-Poverty Planning Grant

The federal Office of Economic Opportunity finally sanctioned the Perry County Advisory Committee as the county's official anti-poverty organization by granting it $38,389 in funds. A total of $12,729 will go to pay expenses of summer remedial reading and home management courses already conducted in Perry County, leaving a remainder of $25,660 with which to establish an anti-poverty planning office.

The Advisory Committee was notified of the grant a week ago, but it won't actually have the money to spend until Governor Breathitt approves the project.

Governor Breathitt has the power to disapprove the project too, or he can simply take no action for 30 days and the project is automatically approved.

Bulletin

The Office of Economic Opportunity this morning sent a telegram to Perry County Advisory Committee Chairman Robert Radar with notification that Governor Breathitt has approved the county's anti-poverty plan.

The Advisory Committee is proceeding on the assumption that the Governor will approve it, however, and has begun accepting applications for the paid jobs that will be made available through creation of the new office.

Exact details of what those jobs will be are to be ironed out under the advice of a representative from the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, who is expected in Hazard for a meeting soon, according to PCAC Chairman Robert Radar.

But tentative plans call for the hiring of a Director, two assistants, a secretary, bookkeeper and possibly some field supervisors.

A total of $18,289 is available to staff the new anti-poverty office. Specific salaries for each job have not been announced, but in Letcher County, which was one of the first counties to receive a similar grant, the Director receives $7,200 a year, his assistant $6,000 a year, with secretarial personnel paid $3,600 annual salary.

PCAC has no official office as yet, and Chairman Radar said persons interested in sending letters of application for the up-coming jobs should address them to: Robert Radar, Perry County Advisory Committee, Hazard, Kentucky.

The voting members of PCAC will study the applications and make the selections, Radar said.

The $25,660 for the planning office breaks down this way:

$18,289 for personnel; $2,500 for special consultant and contract services; $2,238 travel expenses; $3,339 for office rental, phone bill, etc.; $223 for consumable supplies; $2,138 for miscellaneous contingency costs.

Those figures total $28,729. Ten per cent of that amount must be raised in cash or in kind locally, leaving $25,660 federal grant.

Voting members of the Perry County Advisory Committee are Robert Radar, a contractor; Bill Campbell, Buckhorn Presbyterian Child Welfare Agency; John Combs, teacher; the Rev. Jason Combs, retired miner; Ray Livingston, retired miner; Willard Akers, hospital employee; Joe Napier, retired miner; Johnny Deaton, retired farmer;

Elmer Williams, post office employee; Monroe "Red" Brashers, funeral home employee; Earl Combs, store manager; Luther Johnson, Cornettsville merchant; Guy Olinger, store employee; Willie Dawahare, Hazard Mayor and department store owner;

Jess Richardson, motel employee; Green Combs, lumber company employee; Willie Ritchie, Director, State Employment Office; Dr. Lyndon Combs, County Health Officer; Walter Prater, Director, Hazard State Vocational School; Price Back, District Supervisor, Dept. of Child Welfare, Local Services Div.; The Rev. William Brown, minister and Grazia Combs, teacher.

City Tax Bills Mailed, Will Bring In $90,000

City tax bills have been mailed out to Hazard property owners that, once paid, will bring $90,217.36 into the various funds of the City treasury.

That amount will be raised by virtue of the City's tax rate of 75 cents per $100 of assessed valuation of real estate and personal property, and 20 cents per $100 of the valuation of bank shares.

Sixty nine of every 75 cents tax money goes into the General Fund, to meet routine expenses of operating the City and its services. Five cents goes into the Library Fund for the maintenance of the Bobby Davis Memorial Library and its services. One cent goes into the Retirement Fund for City employees.

All taxable property in Hazard—real estate, personal property, bank shares—has been assessed at a value of $12,516, 136. The figure breaks down this way:

Real estate is valued at $8,851,181; personal property is valued at $2,790,096; bank shares are valued at $874,859.

The General Fund will receive $83,232.56. The Library Fund will receive $5,820.65, while the Pension Fund gets $1,164.15 during 1965.

An additional $1,158 is raised for the General Fund by a poll tax on all male voters.

City taxes are payable November 1, after which a penalty of 10 per cent will be levied. But the City offers a two per cent discount to those paying their bills in August, and a one per cent discount for payment in September.

Hazard's temporary budget for 1965 calls for the expenditure of $171,438. Occupational licenses and automobile stickers bring in the funds necessary to supplement those raised by taxation to meet overall expenses.

PCAC Approves Poverty Program

The Perry County Advisory Committee, Inc., held its regular business meeting, Tuesday evening, July 27, at City Hall.

Proposals were made and approved to accept the OEO Program, which includes Program Development, Home Management, and City Schools Remedial Reading; and to accept trained VISTA Volunteers for the Leatherwood School for Retarded Children and for the Recreation Center at Vicco.

Ross Blondell Passes Away After Illness

Ross Blondell, who served three terms as City Commissioner of Hazard, passed away Thursday night, July 22, at his home on Lytle Boulevard. He had been in declining health for the past ten years.

A native of Coeburn, Virginia, Mr. Blondell was reared and educated in Alberta, Canada, coming to Hazard in 1916. He opened the first dry cleaning establishment here and later owned and operated a restaurant on Main Street. He was also active in the coal business with his son Jack but was forced to close the Blondell Mining Company in 1959 because of ill health.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church where funeral services were held Saturday with Rev. Eugene Schmidt and Rev. Earnest Lanham officiating. Burial was in the Riverside Cemetery with the Engle Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Blondell, who was seventy years of age, is survived by his wife, Maude Walker Blondell, two sons, Jack and Ross, two grandchildren, Jack Bradley Blondell and Darnella Blondell, all of Hazard; and one brother, Fred Shepherd, of Richmond.

Woman Restrained In Mine Interference

Another order restraining a property owner from interfering with strip mine operations has been issued by Perry Circuit Court.

This one is against Mrs. Drucilla Eversole who, claims the Foursam Coal Corporation, obstructed mining operations on her 75 acre tract on Big Creek.

The order was issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Don A. Ward after company officials complained that Mrs. Eversole, a widow, interfered with the operation July 23.

The company bases its complaint in part on an agreement it says Mrs. Eversole signed February 4, 1964, granting permission to the company to strip mine her land.

The company has filed in the Circuit Clerk's office a copy of the recent agreement, which says, in part: "THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the sum of Twelve Hundred ($1200.00) Dollars and other good and valuable considerations in hand paid to the party of the first part, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged.

The said party of the first part for herself and her assigns, hereby releases party of the second part, Foursam Coal Corporation, from all liability, due to both past and future mining from any and all damages that may result to her boundary of land, including all improvements and timber thereon, and to the surface thereof, and from any and all anticipated damages that may occur to said land by mining, extracting, and removing of said coal therefrom in any manner whatsoever."

Viet Nam Situation Is Reflected In Perry Draft, Volunteer Figures

The United States involvement in the Viet Nam war is having repercussions around the world, Perry County included.

The gradually-rising draft quota since January of this year is reflected in figures maintained in the local Selective Service office, a rise made necessary by the increase in America's commitment in manpower to South Viet Nam, and by a sharp drop in the number of volunteers since the United States began bombing North Viet Nam in February.

Seven Perry County men were inducted in January; in February, 1; March, 2; April, 6; May, 14; June, 9; July, 8. Twelve local men will be notified of their induction to meet next month's quota.

Figures in the office of local Army recruiter Sgt. Griffin show that 14 men volunteered for the Army in January, but only 3 in February, when the bombing began. In March there were 5 volunteers; April, 4; May, 8; June, 18, several of whom were about to be drafted. So far this month only 4 have volunteered.

Mrs. Juanita Sheegog, Clerk of Local Board 81, said her files show 34 Perry County men have passed examinations classified as I-A, and are now available for induction.

Mrs. Sheegog said these are unmarried men in the age 21-22 bracket, representing nearly the last of the group born in 1945.

Ballad Deadline Changed To Aug. 9

The deadline for the Herald ballad-writing contest has been moved up two days, to noon, August 9, so that arrangements can be made to have the winning ballad sung at the Combs reunion August 15.

The change is in response to a Combs family request, so that rehearsals can be arranged before the big reunion day.

Several ballads have been submitted to the Herald and published in our columns. Song writers are urged to send their contributions as soon as possible so that they all may be printed before August 15.

Letcher Countians Form Another AGSLP Chapter

Over a hundred Letcher Countians turned out at meeting in the live stock auction barn at Isom last night to form a new chapter of the Appalachian Group To Save Land and People, an organization set up to fight strip mining.

They elected Blackey physician and long-time resident Dr. Lundy Adams as co-chairman, replacing Eldon Davidson, who resigned his job as principal of Jenkins City Schools to take a similar position at Monticello, Kentucky.

Last night's meeting was called by Dr. Adams, who spoke out harshly against strip mining.

"The awfullest destruction and devastation that ever took place is going on now" in Letcher County, Dr. Adams told the gathering. "The strip miners want the last drop of blood in the carcass of Eastern Kentucky."

The doctor said that land left to him by his grandfather is now threatened by strip and auger mining. He said it has destroyed his well, and threatens his peach orchard growing right on the number 7 seam of coal on his grandfather's old property.

He also said that stripping of his land will disturb the resting place of his grandfather, who died 30 years ago.

"I am a peaceful man, but a man can be pushed just so far," Dr. Adams said, to enthusiastic applause. He then urged that Eastern Kentucky timber lands be turned into a national forest, "or do anything, but keep it out of the hands of strip mining."

Dr. Adams was followed on the speaker's stand by attorney Harry M. Caudill of Whitesburg, who urged land owners of Eastern Kentucky to adopt the motto of the Commonwealth of Kentucky as their own: "United we stand, divided we fall."

Caudill said that while strip mining is providing huge profits for a few out-of-state mining companies, Eastern Kentucky's legacy will be "the greatest pile of mud under the sun" if the stripping is not stopped.

He said that the profits of one company mining in Kentucky last year was 61 cents out of every dollar taken in.

"We don't want to put them out of business, but we would like to civilize them," Caudill replacing Eldon Davidson, who said.

Dr. Adams joins as co-chairman of AGSLP Leslie County Judge George Wooten; Perry

Mobile Chest X-Ray Coming

The Mobile Chest X-ray Unit will be in Hazard, Ky., on August 3rd, stationed at the Perry County Health Department. The hours of operation will be 10:00 A. M. to 12:00 noon and 1:00 P. M. to 3:00 P. M.

The Perry County Health Department recommends that all persons who have had a positive reading on the tuberculin skin test—this includes both adults and children—come in for a free chest x-ray at this time.

X-rays will be given to anyone 18 years of age and over even though they have not had a positive reaction to the tuberculin skin test, if time and the attendance of the clinic permit.

The number of chest film which can be made per day by the technician is limited to about 300. However, persons under 18 years of age will not be x-rayed unless they have reacted positively to the tuberculin skin test and prenant women will not be x-rayed unless they have been referred by their family physician for the services.

Is Urban Renewal For The Birds?

Last fall's election proved that those who think urban renewal is for the birds are in a strict minority in Hazard.

But that situation may have been changed as a result of some repair work going on in the City Hall building on High Street.

It all started when workmen began renovating the office of the Hazard Urban Renewal Commission, upstairs above City Hall, across the street from Mount Mary Hospital.

Investigation of a hole in the office ceiling disclosed that birds were living there, in obviously substandard conditions, so substandard, in fact, that the mother bird finally couldn't take it any more. She flew away, deserting two eggs in the nest.

Federal programs being what they are, the unhatched bird waifs were dutifully taken care of.

Modern housing was provided, in a paper cup lined with aluminum foil to capture the sun's rays, streaming through the window.

Though yet unborn, the birds (eggs?) have already been named: Ida and Martha. They are being carefully watched over by secretaries with similar names.

He finished third in state competition at last year's fair. Uncle Sam rides again!

NYC'ers MAKE EMPLOYERS HAPPY

If you go to City Hall on business and it takes you to the Mayor's office you will be greeted by Barbara Combs, another product of the National Youth Corps in Perry County. The program is now in full force with the approval from the Kentucky Department of Highways to use 10 youths there.

Cumberland College At Williamsburg Undergoes Rapid Expansion

A college that places special emphasis on equipping its graduates to teach school children in the mountains of southeastern Kentucky is today undergoing rapid expansion.

The institution is Cumberland College in Williamsburg. It was founded as Williamsburg Institute in 1839 and changed its name to Cumberland in 1913. Over the years, Cumberland has earned an important spot in the esteem and affection of the people of the area because of its educational pioneering.

To meet its growing enrollment, Cumberland is in the process of constructing two residence halls, and to have one ready by this September and the other ready by January, 1966.

At the present time a large percentage of the students at Cumberland is training to become teachers. Graduates in past years have made valuable contribution to the lives of children in Kentucky, Tennessee and other states.

On Three Hills
The main campus of the college comprises about 20 acres on three hills overlooking the city, one of the oldest in Kentucky. Williamsburg has long been known for its large number of beautiful residences and churches. Cumberland was founded as a Baptist college and receives support from Kentucky Baptists.

The women's dormitory will house a total of 172 women students and will be erected on one of the hills, adjacent to existing women's residences. The building will be three stories high and will blend architecturally with the existing structures. Construction will be of solid masonry with a red brick exterior.

Dr. James M. Boswell, president of Cumberland emphasized that design plans are highly flexible, including overall architecture, layout of rooms and use of materials. Details of this type are arranged to suit the specific requirements of each college, he said.

A new wing to the men's residence, North Hall, is scheduled for completion by September 5, 1965. The new wing will house 155 men. When completed, North Hall will form a rec-

Society To Honor Administrator Of Local Hospital

Sister M. Barbara Dreier, OSB, Administrator of the Mount Mary Hospital, will be admitted formally to the American College of Hospital Administrators on Sunday afternoon, August 29, in San Francisco.

The announcement was made by ACHA President Ronald D. Yaw, Director of the Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids, Michigan, who will preside at the ceremony.

The ACHA is a professional society of men and women whose life's work is in the field of hospital administration. The membership comprises 6,400 administrators, assistant administrators and administrative assistants of hospitals in the United States and Canada.

The honor will be accorded at the College's 31st annual Convocation Ceremony to be held in the Masonic Memorial Temple. The Convocation precedes the annual meeting of the College, held in conjunction with the convention of the American Hospital Association.

At the same event, the ACHA will confer its highest commendation, Honorary Fellowship, upon five distinguished leaders in the hospital and health fields. They are: L. T. Coggeshall, M.D., former Vice President, The University of Chicago; Jack C. Haldeman, M.D., President, Hospital Review and Planning Council of Southern New York; John F. Harty, Director, Health Law Center, The University of Pittsburgh; Charles G. Roswell, Director, Training, Research and Special Studies, United Hospital Fund, New York; and James A. Shannon, M.D., Director, National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland.

Emphasizing the 1964-65 Federation theme, "The Responsibility of Full Partnership," State Federations are participating in a Partnership with Young Career Women project. Inaugurated at the 1964 National Convention, this project provides for each State Federation to bring an outstanding young career woman to the national convention to observe business and professional women in action and receive leadership training. Aimed at furthering communication between BPW and today's young careerists, the program includes workshops, attendance at business sessions, social events and especially planned tours.

Wrong Color, Rock Wardrobe Increase

The peculiar sensitivities of Technicolor film added four suits to movie star Rock Hudson's personal wardrobe during the filming of his newest romantic comedy.

Hudson, with his most extensive wardrobe in many years—21 different outfits—as he co-stars with Gina Lollobrigida and Gig Young in the Panama and Frank comedy, "Strange Bedfellows," purchased the 4 suits out of his movie costume because the clothes photographed a different shade than they appeared to the human eye, and were not the right tints for the color sensitive film.

In "Strange Bedfellows," a Universal picture which comes Sunday to the Cinema Drive-In Theatre, Hudson is seen as a highly successful European representative of an American industrial corporation.

Local B & P W Club Members Attend National Convention In Washington

Mrs. Grace Strong, Mrs. Katherine Kimberlin, Mrs. Bernice Combs, Mrs. Aileen E. Combs, Mrs. Bonnie Seals, Mrs. Florine Adkins, Mrs. Elsie Brown and Mrs. Eliza Jane Shackelford, of Hazard, are among the approximately 5,000 members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs attending the National Convention in Washington, D. C., July 26-29.

Key-note at the opening meeting on Sunday evening was Marion Sadler, president of American Airlines. The recipient of his company's 1965 TOP HAT AWARD, from the National Federation, Mr. Sadler spoke on the expanding role of women in today's business world.

Sunday afternoon, approximately 500 members were guests of Mrs. Perle Mesta at her home for tea. These honored guests were members who had earned "Gold" membership cards by introducing five new members to the Federation during the 1964-65 fiscal year. The gold card program contributed greatly to the membership gain this year of nearly 4,000. From Hazard attending the tea was Mrs. Katherine Kimberlin.

Dr. Dorothy M. Ford, president of the Federation, from Sherman Oaks, California is presiding at the five-day Convention. Back by popular demand, for the second year, Laurence J. Taylor, vice president for Leadership Development at Hillsdale, Michigan spoke to a Membership Workshop on Wednesday afternoon. His topic, "Growth on Purpose," was geared to the development and utilization of leadership qualities and management skills.

Also on the busy agenda were business meetings, and election of the 1965-66 national officers. Emphasizing the 1964-65 Federation theme, "The Responsibility of Full Partnership," State Federations are participating in a Partnership with Young Career Women project. Inaugurated at the 1964 National Convention, this project provides for each State Federation to bring an outstanding young career woman to the national convention to observe business and professional women in action and receive leadership training. Aimed at furthering communication between BPW and today's young careerists, the program includes workshops, attendance at business sessions, social events and especially planned tours.

The National Convention will be followed by the Tenth Triennial Congress of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, July 29 through August 3, with substantial numbers of international visitors registered to attend both meetings.
